Who we are

A hands-on team of CPAs and executive accounting and finance professionals with decades of diverse experience, ranging from managing small biotech start-ups to running the accounting, reporting, and forecasting functions of multinational organizations.

Unlike traditional consulting firms, we are able to draw on our collective real-world experience running accounting functions and supporting executive teams in fast-paced, growing life sciences organizations. This allows us to provide our clients with a holistic offering of services, so they can focus on what matters: the science.

Why Valkyrie

How the team works with the companies it supports.

01

Experienced

Our team has a wide range of hands-on experience at the operational, technical, and strategic levels, which allows us to provide life sciences companies with a holistic and realistic approach to operating.

02

Flexible

Our team is accustomed to working in fast-paced, high-energy environments and appreciates that flexibility is often key to accomplishing a company's strategic goals and initiatives.

03

Consistent

Consistency is one of the foundations of our approach to advising clients, because it ensures that processes are repeatable, efficient, and cost-effective. However, we also recognize that every company is unique, and we always ensure that the solutions we propose fit our clients' needs.

04

Collaborative

We strive to establish a collaborative relationship with your team that provides for a tailored and positive experience.
